Operational Update

Operational update

ACADEMIC YEAR 2022-2023 Strong demand fuels rentals and rent prices

- Massive search for student rooms in all four countries
 - Rental season started significantly earlier in all countries
 - Higher retention (up to 80%)
 - All cities rented out in record time
- Inflation protection: Short term nature of student contracts, rising inflation can be absorbed more quickly.
- Cost hedging: Utility costs are protected against inflation and growing additional services (XiorConnect: webshop, partnerships,...)
- Implemented rent increases have no effect on the increasing demand for student rooms
- Increasing pricing power on the back of growing student population and existing scarcity. Rental income is maximised without losing sight of affordability.
